

Healthy Milk

We are determined to supply only an absolutely pure, healthy milk, and with this end in view we are proceeding on the theory that it is impossible to be too careful in the feeding and care of our herds and in the handling and treatment of our milk. Our cows are periodically inspected by the Territorial Veterinarian, and perfect cleanliness is maintained in every department. On receipt of the milk at our depot, and before its distribution to our customers, it is treated by a scientific electric purifying process.

HONOLULANS PAY RESPECTS TO DIPLOMAT AT FREAR HOME

Cordiality and Informality Mark Ideal Out-of-Door Reception to Secretary Knox; Visiting Dignitaries Presented to Former Queen Liliuokalani and Her Suite

Standing on the shaded terrace of Governor Frear's charming home on Punahou street, Secretary of State Knox, Mrs. Knox and the other members of the official party making a brief sojourn in Honolulu, shook hands and exchanged a word of greeting with a large number of Honolulu people who took advantage of Governor Frear's hospitality to pay their respects to the distinguished diplomat. It was an ideal out-of-doors reception, marked by cordiality and informality, which reflected the true spirit of the islands. Secretary Knox was frankly delighted with the welcome accorded him, saying that he would carry away with him none but the pleasantest recollections of his first visit to Hawaii.

Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani, accompanied by her suite, made the, for, arduous effort of attending the reception, and, seated on the terrace in front of the receiving line, held a court of her own, the visiting dignitaries being presented to her in turn, and nearly all the guests waiting in line to pay their respects to Hawaii's much-loved former ruler. The Queen appeared very feeble, and it taxed her waning strength to the utmost to make the short journey to and from her automobile. Her mind, however, proved to be as bright and alert as of old, and she paid keen attention to everyone who greeted her during the course of her attendance.

The Royal Hawaiian Band was grouped on the lawn near the entrance gateway, and throughout the afternoon rendered a well-selected program, varied with music by the orchestra of Hawaiian singing girls. This last feature was much appreciated by the Knox party, all of whom walked across the lawn to get a better idea of the native singing, and enthusiastically applauded the rendering of native airs.

In Receiving Line.

In the receiving line were Governor Frear, Secretary Knox, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Frear, Mr. Miller and Rear Admiral Reynolds, standing in the order named. For two hours the introductions and hand shakings were almost continuous, but if the strain was considerable after a day of strenuous sightseeing, none of the party allowed their fatigue to be noticed, and everyone was made to feel at home and thoroughly welcome. Territorial Secretary Mott-Smith and Norman Courtenay, secretary to the Governor, acted as masters of ceremony and conducted the guests to the head of the receiving line.

The guests broke up into chatty, congenial groups, and that all were enjoying themselves was evidenced by the fact that it was well after 6 o'clock before the last auto rolled away from the Governor's door. The affair was more than an official reception, for the genuineness of the welcome to the visitors was emphasized by the manner of the guests.

The afternoon was delightfully informal, and was marked by the absence of stiff-necked ceremony. The women were gowned in varying degrees of elaborateness, but the men came in mufti or white uniforms, the Governor looking coolly tropical in white flannel, while Secretary Knox wore a plain suit of pongee topped with a Panama hat. Admiral Cowles and the naval and marine officers wore side arms, while the army, with the exception of the Governor's staff, did not.

Among Those Present.

Among those who paid their respects to the official party during the afternoon were:

Admiral and Mrs. Cowles, General and Mrs. Macomb, Major and Mrs. Neville, Captain and Mrs. McDougal, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gayler, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. SUPER'S ASSISTANT DUE ON WILHELMINA

Lloyd R. Kellam, the new assistant general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., will arrive on the Wilhelmina next Tuesday to assume his new duties as the head of the religious work of the association. The newly appointed assistant general secretary is to be given entire charge of this branch in order that General Secretary Super may devote more of his time to the social activities of the institution.

Kellam is a graduate of the William Jewell College and spent several years at Brown University, later taking his M. A. degree at the University of Missouri. For a time, he was religious work director in the University of Missouri Young Men's Christian Association and was only recently assigned here by the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A.

He is twenty-eight years old and married.

"BRAINSTORM" BARRED BY CHICAGO JUDGE

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 19.—Mrs Florence Bernstein, on trial before Judge Honore for murder of her husband as he lay asleep at her side, was branded as a "murderess who had conspired and executed his death" in an argument by State's Attorney Wayman before a jury this afternoon. The state demanded that the pretty widow be given a life term in prison.

A short time before the State's Attorney began his argument Judge Honore ruled against the admission of the alienists' testimony, which thus forbade the defense to try to show that the defendant suffered from "mental eclipse" when her husband was shot.

The decision of Judge Honore against admitting expert testimony also may stop insanity pleas hereafter in many murder cases in Cook county. The ruling may eliminate such pleas as "brainstorm," "furore transitoria" and "dementia Americana," which helped to make the Thaw trial famous.
